January 2012 BNB<sup>1</sup>

The cost of the BNB for Mutare has dropped by 0.43%, from $455.79 in November 2011 to $453.82 in January 2012. The cost of basic food items has not changed much, except for a slight decrease in the cost of vegetables (onions, greens and tomatoes), mainly attributed to their increased availability on the market. On average, a green bar of soap has risen to $1.70 up from $1.55 two months ago. No announcements regarding changes in water and electricity bills were done since October last year.

The detailed BNB for January 2012 is presented in Table 1:

The BNB and household income: Aftermath of the BONUS Season!

The festive season came and vanished with it the 13th checks that temporarily brought smiles to many workers' faces. Average household incomes for the 10 households that we are tracking dropped from an average of $190.00 in November 2011 to $185.90 in January 2012 (probably because of the BONUS factor) (see Figure 1 below).
